The Caballo Loco Story

In the early 1990's, one of the owners of Valdivieso Vineyard, didn't know what to do with all of the "leftovers" of their very best Single Vineyard Reserve wines. These "leftovers" are the result of filling the tanks to the top to avoid any oxygen that can ruin wine. What do we do with all of this great "leftover" wine? That is when one of the owners had a crazy idea. Let's take these "leftovers" and blend them. This man's nickname is Caballo Loco (Crazy Horse). 50% of this first blend was bottled and named Caballo Loco Number One. The other 50% was reserved. The following year, the "leftovers" were again blended. That blend was blended with the 50% of Caballo Loco Number One that was reserved. The result was Caballo Loco Number Two. 50% of Caballo Loco Number Two was bottled and 50% was reserved to blend with the following year's "leftovers". Each year this process is repeated. The Caballo Loco wine is highly rated and has won many awards. The Herr Tavern & Publick House is proud to offer this beautiful wine.
